

MISSISSIPPI WORKERS' CENTER for Human Rights

Fighting for the dignity and safety of all workers since 1996

Celebrating 25 years of standing with Mississippi workers and their families

FOUNDED DECEMBER 30, 1996

We are proud to share this moment with our clients, friends, and supporters. Together, we have achieved significant victories and helped to change the culture of “work” from the Mississippi Delta to the Gulf Coast. As we mark this milestone, we celebrate courageous workers who boldly stand up against workplace injustices, including discrimination, sexual harassment, and retaliation. Over the past 25 years, our work has taken us to 57 of the 82 counties in Mississippi, where we have provided trainings, organizing support, and legal advocacy. Here’s to the next 25 and beyond. On behalf of our members and Board of Directors, we thank you for standing with us. Happy holidays and best wishes for a safe and healthy new year!

Jaribu Hill, Founder and Executive Director

We're defending workers' rights

Our work addresses the urgent needs and human rights of Mississippi's low-wage workers.

Workers deserve dignity & respect