

Workers' Rights are Human Rights

Short slideshow presentation

BY

The Mississippi Workers' Center for Human Rights

Established in 1996

P.O. Box 1223 Greenville, MS 38701 USA

+1-662-334-1122

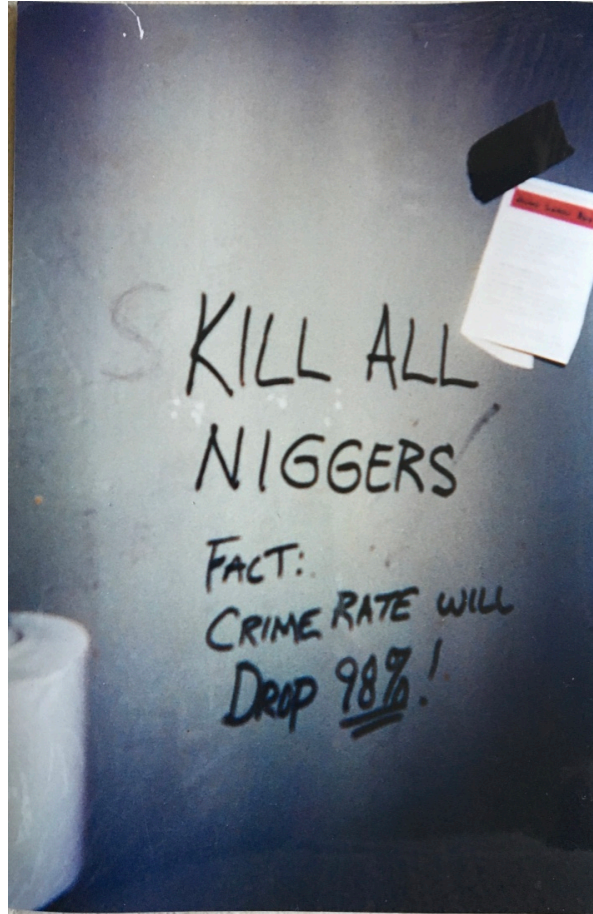

Jaribu.hill@gmail.com

A Glimpse of Terror in Mississippi Workplaces

In 2009, shipyard workers in Mississippi achieved a major victory. They succeeded in getting their workplace declared a hate-free zone. The Mississippi Workers' Center worked with these workers to bring about a victory

Graffiti painted on company wall across from the administration compound

Back in the day is today.

No one should have to die to make a living!

In the state of Mississippi, injured workers only have 450 weeks worth of workers comp. benefits. Mississippi is one of 17 states that has a ceiling on workers compensation.

A campaign against workplace sexual harassment was launched after women auto-workers were constantly harassed, fondled, propositioned and threatened with rape in their workplace. As a result of the campaign, women saw a reduction in incidents of sexual harassment. Freedom from all forms of harassment and abuse is a human right.

When we look at the lives of the working poor, we must consider all of the injustices to which they are victims. Where there is underemployment and a lack of a living wage, there is also substandard inhumane housing for the working poor. The This Ain't Livin' Campaign is part of the Workers' Center's ongoing effort to declare housing as a human right.

THIS AIN'T LIVIN'!!!
COME TO A COMMUNITY LISTENING SESSION
THURSDAY, JULY 14, 2016
6PM-8PM
MLK CENTER
601 MLK DRIVE, MCCOMB, MS 39648

LEARN ABOUT YOUR RIGHTS AS A RENTER!

COME AND SHARE YOUR CONCERNS WITH LOCAL AND STATE ELECTED OFFICIALS, COMMUNITY LEADERS + ADVOCATES!

FREE ADMISSION! FREE REFRESHMENTS!
THE RIGHT TO DECENT HOUSING IS A HUMAN RIGHT!

SPONSORED BY:
DELTA FOUNDATION
MISSISSIPPI WORKERS' CENTER FOR HUMAN RIGHTS

FOR MORE INFORMATION CALL: 662-334-1122